F. H. S. Teachers Devise Plan by Which To Re- Best Books of the Year

Dorothy Dalious

The teachers of the Senior High School have conceived a unique plan for reading the best books of the year for only seventy cents!

The best known critics read these books, then pick out the most interesting and the best written and send out a small booklet called "Wings." This booklet contains the name of the book the critics chose and a brief review of it.

By joining the Literary Guild when they did, the teachers received as a gift one book, "Anna Karenina" by Tolstoi. At the end of the year they will have received nine best books. They at this time have five and have ordered four more. Among the books that they have are "Beavers, Kings and Cabins" by Skinner, "Christian Jealousy" by Moehlman, and "A Tragedy" by Tolstoi.

Findlay High Classes Organize For Year

Jeanette Brooks

The classes of the Senior High school have met and election of officials prominently shows a 'survival of the fittest.' The Blue and Gold has served that the new officials have the records to show for the past.

The seniors have chosen as their president, Emerson Shuck, a student well-known and well-liked, who, last year served as treasurer of his class, played the leading role in the junior class play, and also was a prominent member of the Blue and Gold staff. Clarence Davis was given the office of vice-president. Clarence has also secured the office of secretary in the Senior Hi-Y. Bill Cromer, a prominent figure in both athletics and music, is now secretary of the class. Marcella Gohlke has secured the position of treasurer. Marcella seems to be the only feminine member of the executive official board.

The juniors have followed in the

Findlay Takes Honors In Ada Sectional Meet

Bucyrus and Galion Fall as Trojans Qualify for District Meet.

Bob Garlinger

The Findlay High School Trojans romped through to two decisive victories in the Ada sectional tournament last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday in the Ohio Northern gym. Coach Winters' cagers downed Bucyrus in their first clash by a 31-13 margin and in a semi-final joust trounced Galion's highly touted quintet by a 24-13 score.

In Friday night's game against Bucyrus, the Trojans got off to a slow start, the Bucs grabbing an early first quarter 4-2 lead. But immediately the hostilities were again

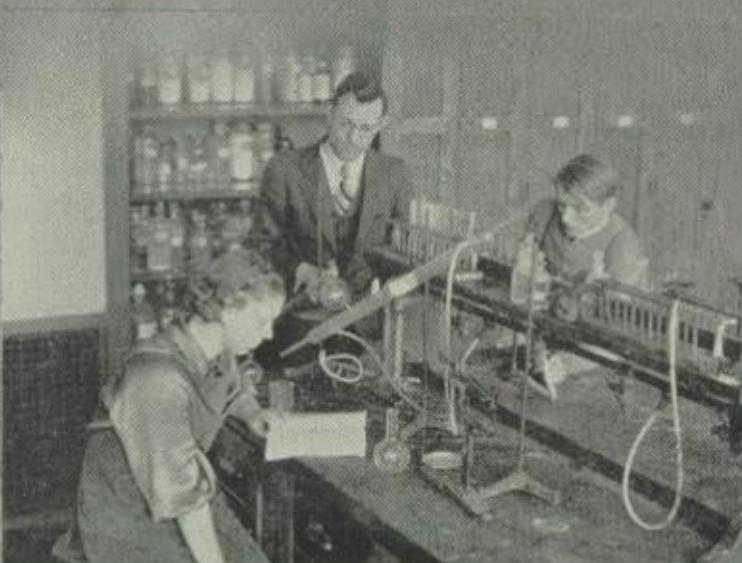

Pirates of Penzance Will Be Presented On March 23 and 24

Dick Leader

"The Pirates of Penzance," an imaginative light opera in two acts has been chosen to be presented by the Junior and Senior music students on March 23 and 24. The opera will be directed by Wendell Sanderson, director of music in the Findlay Schools.

The opera had primarily been chosen to be presented last spring but due to the short school year the romantic opera could not be given. However, Mr. Sanderson and his classes believed "The Pirates of Penzance" to be so excellent that they decided to give it this year.

Try-outs for the operatic leads are to be held in a week or two. The choruses are already being prepared by the music classes. The opera contains ten singing leads, besides a number of choruses.

To recall to your mind the happy and thrilling events of the past school year is the hope of the staff in presenting this book—a story of school life in action. May the remembrances that it brings back linger for many, many joyous years.

IN APPRECIATION for the splendid work and services that he has done while we have been students in the high school and for many years preceding that, we, the class of 1934, dedicate this yearbook to F. L. KINLEY, our principal. During the ten years that he has been here, Mr. Kinley has brought about many changes in our school. Under his direction Findlay Senior High School has obtained a reputation that is so excellent that it has spread throughout the whole state and nation. While he has been here he has kept boosting our scholarship until, at the present time, we are among the high-ranking schools in the state in the quality of our scholarship. Without his aid we would not have been able to enjoy our marvelous club organization that is the product of many years' experimentation on his part and on the part of the faculty. He has helped develop the athletics of our school until they have reached their present high level. But the thing that counts most with us is the fact that when you are a friend of his he will stand by you through thick and thin—and everybody is his friend.

New Building

DURING any warm sunshiny day in the spring or fall, people passing the school during the noon hour can see the deliberate seniors, the worried juniors, the scurrying sophomores appear and vanish into the depths of the new building ready to start another session of school. Perhaps for forty-five minutes the building is quiet. Then suddenly a bell rings and the halls are filled with noise. The seniors pace deliberately down the hall; the juniors either stalk off to their next class hurriedly or drag along and impede everyone's progress; however, the sophomores dash hither and thither among the crowd and manage to get in everyone else's way. But things like that are common occurrences and are taken for granted. Thus, it has gone on for over ten years, and it will keep on happening as long as students are students and the building is a school.

Old Building

HERE IS the old building where our immense sophomore class holds forth in this, its first year at Senior High. This part of the school holds many memories for the aspiring juniors and dignified seniors. It was here that they were initiated by the patient teachers into the dark and dim mysteries of secondary education. Here it is that the school gathers each Wednesday to hear the fertile brain-child of some student's mind expanded into bits of glistening oratory which fall like pearls before swine. Here it is that Principal Kinley sits enthroned in his office and helps many a student solve his problems. But inside this building's ivy-covered walls many successful citizens of Findlay received their education. Through its portals the seniors will pass on graduation night, never to enter again as students of the dear old Findlay Senior High School.

MR. MATTESON has toiled patiently through seventeen years as head of the Findlay educational system and has worked untiringly in promoting all projects which he has deemed worthy of support. He has been conservative in his ideas and deliberate and thoughtful in making decisions.

Perhaps the most important reform during these years was the instituting of the junior high schools, a modern city system.

Mr. Matteson has been most careful and considerate in his choice of instructors and has always made his selections with unbiased judgment. He has been wise also in choosing the study curriculum which will be of greatest value to the students of today and the citizens of tomorrow, and in so doing he has respected highly the opinions of others in these matters.

He has not been interested only in these major projects and reforms, but also in minor ones, such as sports and other extra curricular activities.

In short, Findlay city schools owe, in large measure, their present destination and reputation to the untiring efforts of Mr. Matteson.

The Board of Education

Far too many of us never really appreciate the work of the Board of Education. If everything goes along smoothly, we completely forget that it is the work of the board that has made a certain plan successful, and congratulate the officials with whom we have daily contact. But, when plans prove unsuccessful, when troubles, financial or otherwise, beset the school system, we immediately realize the importance to a school system of its Board of Education.

Findlay has, indeed, been fortunate in having on its school board men who have labored tirelessly to improve the system. During the past few years the task of keeping the schools on a running basis has been a most formidable one. But despite setbacks of all kinds the board has proved that it is truly a fine group. In many towns the size of Findlay, or even in larger cities, the schools have been forced to close entirely, or have been forced to cut out many truly beneficial subjects in the curriculum. But in our city no subject has been dropped, no changes have been made, and except for an unfortunate variation last year, school has continued as before. Surely the students who have graduated from Findlay High, those who will graduate in coming years, and the citizens of our town realize and appreciate the splendid efforts of our board.

We cannot know what lies ahead in the field of education. We cannot know whether fortune will smile or frown upon the Findlay school system. But we feel sure that, come what may, the board of Education will help to keep Findlay High in the place it has held for years, a truly splendid school.

Seniors

We of the Class of 1934 can now look back over our three years at Findlay Senior High School and realize that those days of drudgery were filled with happiness and good times.

We entered Old F. H. S. with one aim—to uphold the high standing of the alumni of former years. We worked hard to help gain honors for the school in the State Scholarship Tests and were somewhat successful in the attempt.

Under the supervision of Miss Shilling and Mr. Alexander as Junior Class advisors, and under the direction of Mr. Humphrey, we, as juniors, successfully presented the play "Mignonette." Although our second year in high school was shortened by two months, we managed the important annual social events, the Junior-Senior prom, which with all its gay beauty and splendor proved a huge success.

Miss Wiseley and Mr. Hutson, sponsors, and Emerson Shuck, president of our group, led us through our final and most eventful year at F. H. S. The climax of this career was the production of "Green Stockings," a comedy directed by Miss West.

We are deeply regretful in having to leave Findlay High but hope to bring her honor and fame in the future by our success in college and the business world.

Junior Class Boys

The boys of the Junior Class have held up the standard of achievement which their predecessors, the senior boys, have set before them. Numerous ones have represented their school and class in athletics and many others have done their share in qualifying for scholarship tests. Some fellows have not been in many activities, but all of them are willing and ready to support their school or class in any way that may be beneficial to it.

Junior Class Girls

The Junior girls this year have shown a very fine spirit in all that was asked of them. For the Junior Play tryouts they showed a fine co-operative spirit by having a large group present. Several girls represented the class at Bowling Green in the scholarship tests. It is very hard to mention any extra curricular activity in which some Junior girls do not take an active and very helpful part.

Sophomore Boys

This year when the Sophomore boys came from the two junior highs, Donnell and Glenwood, they put all the rivalry that had existed between the two schools aside and joined in a common determination to back the activities of dear old Findlay High. In this they succeeded admirably for they were out for every sport and activity that they could participate in. We hope that they continue in the same spirit next year.

Sophomore Girls

Last September brought a new crop of faces to fill the vacancy left by the present junior girls. It must be said for the Sophomore girls that they held up the standards as capably as any before them have ever done. They did everything they could do to get behind school projects and help put them over. It is our fervent hope that the Sophomore Class of '36 will live up to our anticipations.

Activities

Honor Class

Findlay Senior High School has many reasons to be proud of its Honor Class this year for it is an unusually large one. All members of this class have maintained for four years an average of ninety per cent or more. It is composed of the pupils of the best scholastic ability and is a recognition of the achievement of every member. This year's class was headed by William Cromer as valedictorian with an average of 96.062 per cent. He was very closely followed by Richard Leader who had an average of 95.979 per cent. These two boys were leaders in the activities of the school and deserve the honor that comes to them. The Honor Class represents the best in scholastic ability that the high school has. To be a member of it is the ambition of every true student of Findlay High. The members are to be commended for their work and for the honor that they bring to the school.

Student Council

The Student Council is made up of members elected from each home room. Mr. Kinley is the faculty adviser. It serves as a link between the administration of the school and the student body. Any suggestions from students are brought up in the Student Council. It is not a student governing body but is an organization which strives to unify student activities under one control. This group sponsored the lecture course which is greatly enjoyed by all the student body. It has charge of the concessions during the football and basketball seasons and at the Basketball Tournament. The group also sponsored College Day but on account of there being no school that week the day was canceled. Thus in many ways the Student Council makes itself an invaluable factor in the life of the school.

SENIOR DRAMATIC CLUB

Those individuals who desire to strengthen their knowledge of the stage and learn to manage and direct plays are encouraged to join the Senior Dramatic Club. The principal of acting is extended through various kinds of one-act plays. Among those plays directed and given by club members are comedies as well as tragedies. Miss Sylvia West served as faculty advisor.

DEBATE CLUB

During the past year great strides have been taken in the development of debating as a school project. This year a Buckeye Debate League consisting of Findlay, Fremont, Fostoria, Tiffin, and Sandusky was formed. Throughout the year various non-decision debates were held with the respective members of this league. Practice debates were also held with Melmore and Thompson Townships. Students representing Findlay High in these debates were: Don Patterson, Louise Ault, Robert Yates, John Wallen, Dan Flowers, and Thomas Roberts. Mr. Mattoon is the sponsor of this activity.

Standing we see: Mr. Mattoon, M. Bair, D. Flowers. Seated are: R. Yates, D. Patterson, Louise Ault, G. Might, A. Baughman, F. Jackson, T. Roberts, V. Cole, J. Wallen.

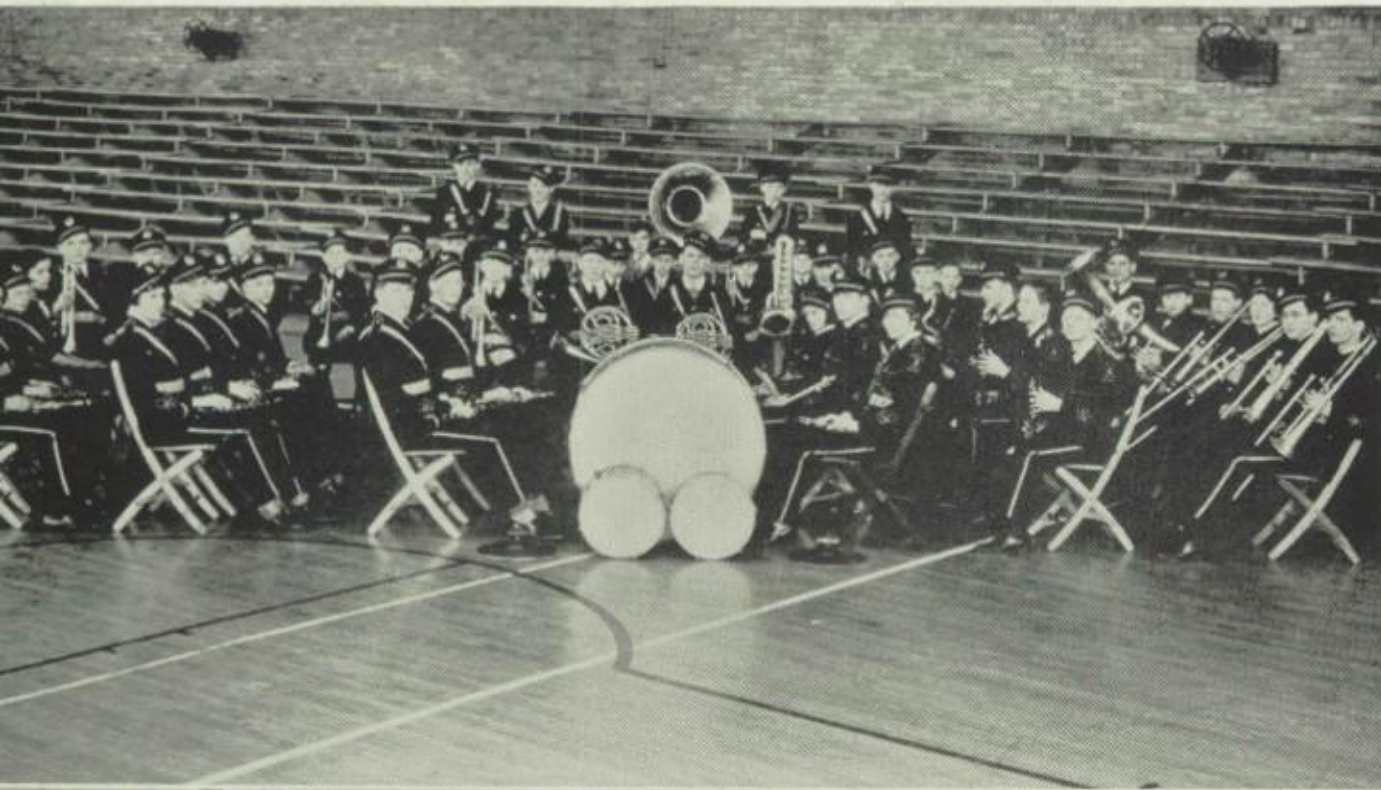

CHAPEL CHOIR

The Chapel Choir, under the direction of Mr. Sanderson and composed of fifty selected members of the advanced music class has sung in chapel and at various city churches and clubs.

ORCHESTRA

Once again the Orchestra has played an important part in the activities of the school, participating in the Latin Pageant, the Style Show, the Junior and Senior plays, and the Opera, "The Pirates of Penzance," and assisting at Commencement. This organization made an excellent showing at the Buckeye League Festival at Sandusky.

Letters were awarded to the graduating members who had served three years in the orchestra. The organization was composed this year of the following members:

From left to right we see: M. Minard, G. Currie, R. Daugherty, O. Garlow, C. Barnhart, G. Brown, B. Tarr, D. Cavitt, H. McKelvey, B. Johnston, O. Dickes, F. Royer, B. Reed, G. Howard, Mr. Shisler, B. Stagecraft Club

This year several new and different organizations have been added to the club set-up, under the efficient and enthusiastic guidance of Mr. Kinley and the faculty. The clubs are extremely varied as to the projects carried on. The diversified groups have been chosen with the idea of giving each student an opportunity to partake in an extra curricular activity which he may enjoy to the greatest extent and from which he may derive the greatest benefit. From the clubs of the school routine the students derive priceless experience in the responsibilities and work required by a club, for it is in reality the members themselves who direct the organizations under the supervision of the sponsor. Each club made out at the beginning of the year a more or less definite program for the term, and in the carrying out of these varied programs, the students have found a great deal to interest and benefit them. The several new clubs which have been organized have added greatly to an already excellent and interesting club system.

One of these interesting clubs is the Stagecraft Club.

The Queen's Husband

The Junior Class of 1934 presented a three-act comedy entitled "The Queen's Husband." The setting for the play was a mythical kingdom in the North Sea.

The part of the overbearing Queen was played by Ada Kroske, while her checker-playing husband, the King, was played by Dan Schofield. The romantic roles were handled by Gwendolyn Might, Princess Anne, and Harold Askam, as the King's Secretary. A revolution broke out led by two anarchists, Lakey and Fellman. Revere Adler and Victor Bowman had the roles respectively. General Northrup, played by Paul Taylor and Bill Waite as the Major helped subdue the revolution. They were assisted by Wayne Niswander and Bob Howard. Jim Fryc played the amusing part of the lisping Prince of Greek, a forced suitor to Princess Anne. Glen McCleary and Louise Ault were domestic servants while Darwin Bibler portrayed the role of Birton, a national figure. Jeannette Brooks and Helen McKelvey played the parts of Ladies-in-waiting to the Queen, while Delores Pifer and Francis Jackson were attendants to the Princess.

Mr. Humphrey directed the play.

The stage managers were Frank Emerson and LaVerle Miller. The play committee which picked the play was as follows: John Gee, Bill Dorsey, Grace Fairbanks, Ruth Jackson, and Betty Jane Mischke. Miss Shilling and Miss Dietsch served as costume managers while Mr. Constein handled the lighting effects. Mr. Mattoon was the property manager while Bob Howard handled the business.

Green Stockings

The leading roles of "Green Stockings," the Senior Play, were portrayed by Betty Moran and Bob Neumann who took the parts of Celia Faraday and Colonel Smith, respectively. Fanny Lowe as Mrs. Chisolm Faraday and Jack Firmin as William Faraday also carried a good share of the burden in the plot development. Others in the supporting cast were: Carolyn Dorsey, as Phylis Faraday; Eleanor Arnold, as Madge Faraday; Betty Fellabaum, as Evelyn Trenchard; James Platt, as Admiral Grece; Bill Sargent, as Robert Lawer; Emerson Shuck, as James Raleigh; George Barrett, as Henry Steele; and Bob Garlinger, as Martin, the Butler.

The plot develops about an old English custom which required an elder sister to wear "green stockings" at the wedding of her younger sister, if that younger sister has captured a husband first.

Miss West directed the play. The committee that chose the play were: Dick Caughman, Jack Firmin, Emerson Shuck, Kathryn Denison, Laura Schaefer, Mary O'Brien, assisted by Mr. Hutson and Miss Wiseley.

The stage managers were Don Bishop, Ben Emerson, Charles Beard, and LaVerle Miller.

The costume committee consisted of Miss Wiseley, Miss Hudnell, Annabel Spitler, Betty Beals, Marjorie Browne, Annabel Bowman and Maxine Wolfe.

The property committee was made of Mr. Hutson, Laura Schafer, Audrey Tippin, Betty Reed, Don Dennis, and Bob Haldeman.

The Business and Publicity Manager was James Cotner, and Betty Moran had charge of the newspaper publicity.

These committees functioned very efficiently and are to be commended for their hard work.

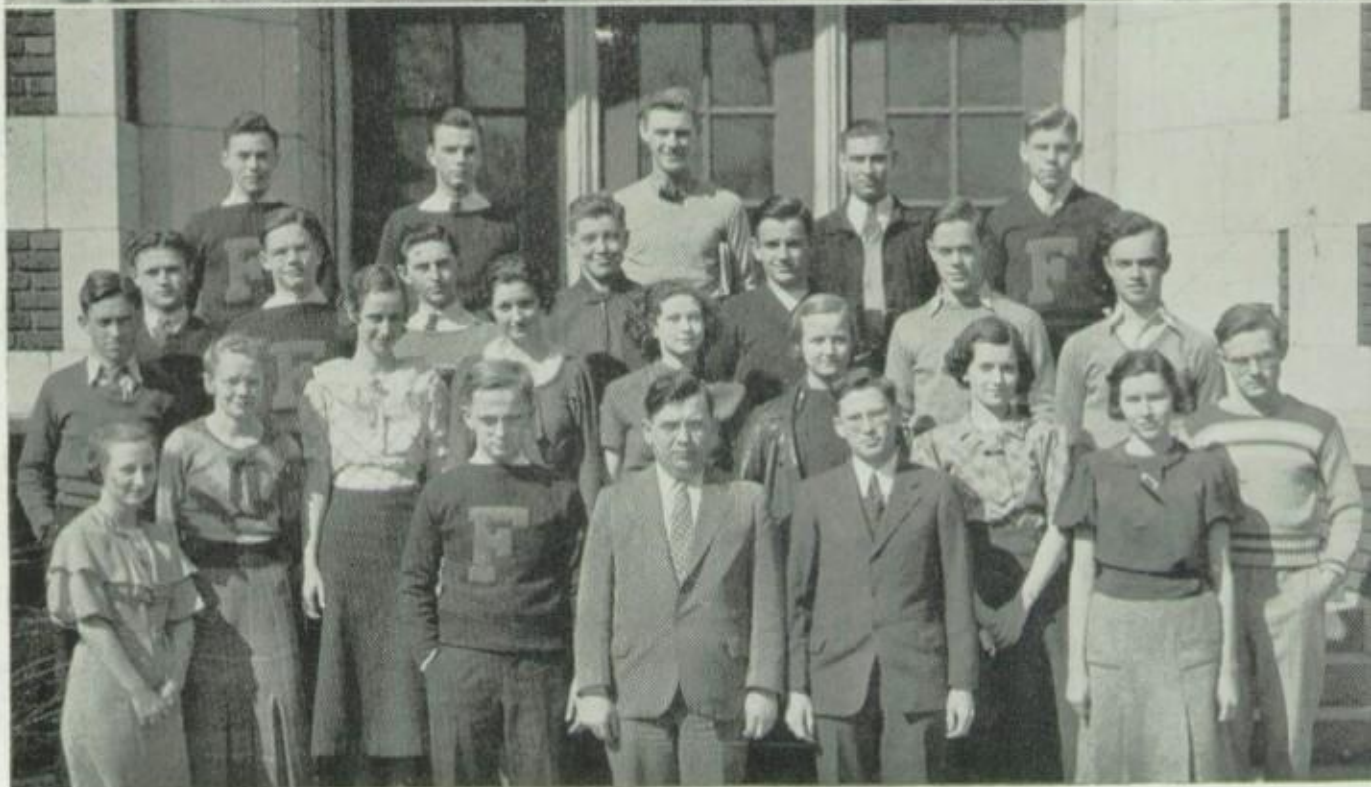

Pirates of Penzance

This year, as in former years, the opera proved to be one of the highlights of school life. In the presentation of the comic opera "The Pirates of Penzance" the advanced music class rose to the interpretation of a more difficult production than those of previous years.

Credit for the tremendous success of "The Pirates of Penzance" may be attributed to several causes. The direction of the opera was above reproach and great praise may be given to Mr. Wendell Sanderson, Miss Ruth Finton, Miss Geneva Bushey, and Mr. Earl Shisler.

The splendid work of the cast also merits the highest praise. Those who carried the solo parts were Bill Cromer, James Hanna, Eugene Willett, James Platt, Lyle Hendricks, Donna Grube, Joan Winterrowd, Dorothy Buffington, Martha Mae Roberts, and Maxine Misamore.

Thanks to the help of Miss Anstaett, Miss Fassett, Miss Wiest, and Jean Schofield, Carolyn Ulsh, Sara Anne Howard, and Anna Belle Robinson, the costumes were delightful. The work done in make-up by Miss Switzer and the Stagecraft Club was noteworthy as was the great assistance rendered by Mr. Slager, Mr. Constein and the Stagecraft Club in the effect of the scenery and lighting. The stage managers, Don Dennis, Bob Haldeman, LaVerle Miller, and Carl McKitrick proved very efficient as did the business manager, Wayne Nieswander. The pianists, Helen Lee and Esther Moore aided greatly in the tremendous success of the production.

Athletics

Years after they have graduated this year's senior class and the rest of the school, too, can look back upon the athletic record of Findlay Senior High School during the season of 1933-1934 with much pleasure and satisfaction. Throughout the last few years Findlay has kept its standards of athletics up with the best. It has been a hard struggle to do this but with the backing of the student body our Athletic Department was enabled to pull through. We hope that the student body will appreciate the work that was required.

It is the purpose of this section to preserve in the minds of all owners of this year-book memories of the athletic season of 1933-1934. We have placed in this section football, basketball and the tumbling team. It is one of our great disappointments that we were unable to have track, golf, tennis, or the regular gym work here portrayed. However, we wish to mention the fine work of Mr. Constien, the track coach; of Mr. Slager, the golf coach; and of Mr. Hochstettler, the tennis coach.

Coaches

In the three years that Coach Winters has been with us he has made a success of every adventure. Although the football team got off to a bad start, he coached it to a very successful finish. His tireless efforts with the basketball team produced championship results. Not only in football and basketball did Coach Winters show his ability, but also in regular gym work. He was always willing to help the boys with any of their problems, whether athletic or personal.

The football squad has been very fortunate in having such good natured coaches. One of the best examples is Coach Frack. He is one of those fellows who makes practice a real pleasure rather than just an everyday grind. In his new project at the old athletic park this last year he devoted his time to shaping Findlay High's future gridiron stars.

One of the most valuable qualities of a football coach is the ability to get along with the fellows. Coach Oliphant possesses an abundance of this quality. His good nature and his sense of humor seem to draw the fellows to him. He has a natural ability for working out new and deceptive plays.

Managers

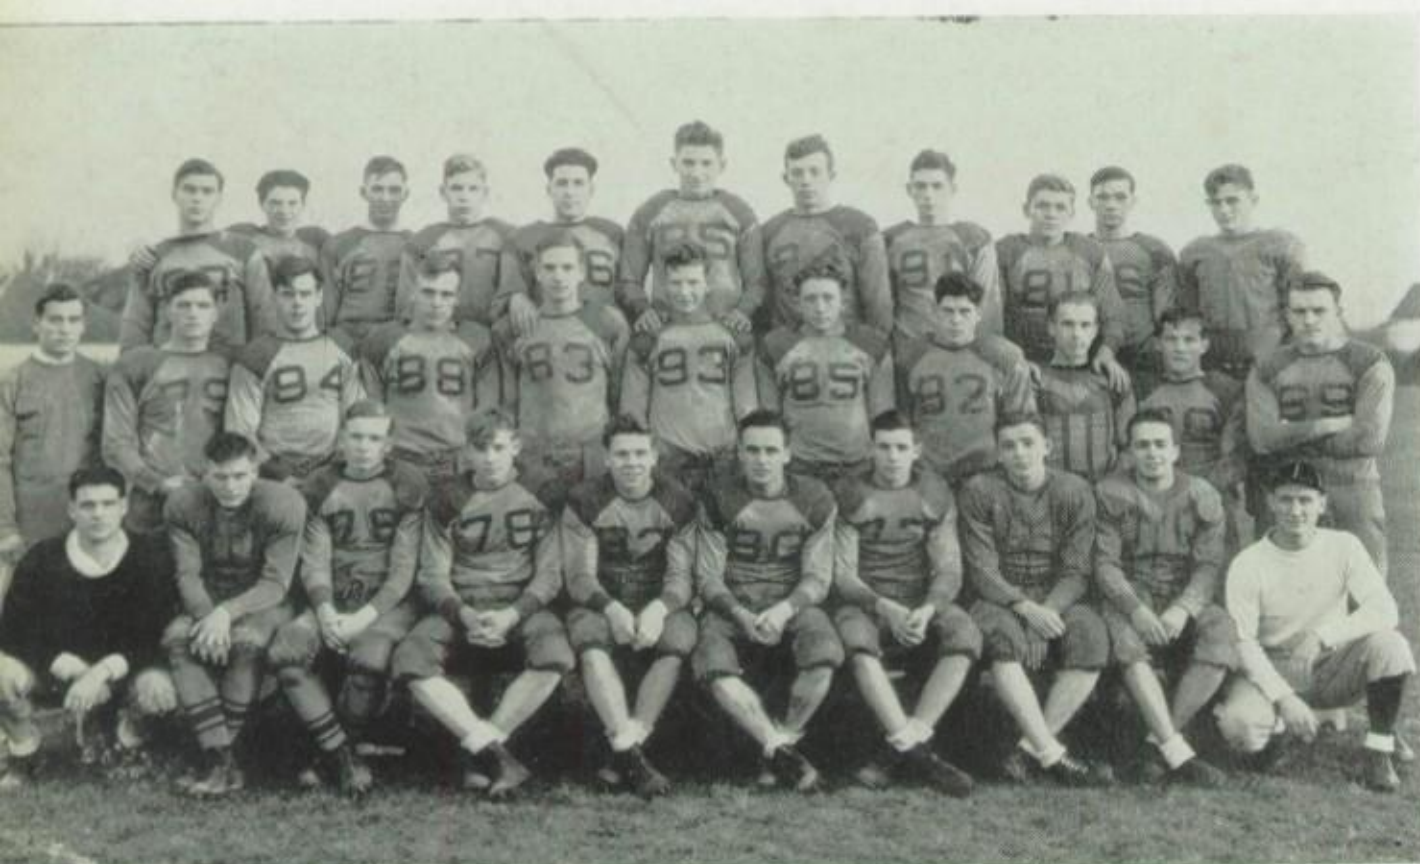

When thinking of a school's athletic program one thinks only of the players who participate in the different contests of the year and the coaches who are charged with the task of teaching the fundamentals and the fine points of the sports to the players. Too little credit is given the managers who very often spend more time at their posts than the players themselves. The staff of managers this year, as in many previous years, has been ably handled by Mr. Robbins, the faculty manager, whose untiring work in the season of 1933 and 1934 has given us a very successful year. The making of our football and basketball schedules, the handling of tournaments, the managing of successful intra-mural sport programs, the securing of new equipment, and the doing of many other things can all be attributed to the faithful work of Mr. Robbins.

Mr. Robbins was faithfully assisted throughout the football season by George Barrett, Jack Firmin, Elmer Orndorff, and Dick Leader, senior managers; Dick Risser, junior manager; and Darell Green, Dick Moore, Charles Kirk, and Dan Beardsley, sophomore managers.

The basketball managers were Bob Haldeman and Dewey Donnell, seniors; Benny Walters, junior; and William Ruth and Walter Mueller, sophomores.

Varsity Football Squad

At the outset of the 1934 season, Findlay's chances on the gridiron looked rather small, but through practice, and the untiring efforts of Coach Winters, the squad developed into a fighting and determined unit, having the one desire - - to win.

The season was altogether a successful one. The team won six out of ten games, losing to Fremont, Toledo DeVilbiss, the strong Sandusky eleven, and Columbus Academy. The team won from their old opponents, Lima Central, and that seemed to give them the confidence, fire, and pep, that was needed to down the Red and Black Warriors from Fostoria. The game was played on an ideal day and the spectators jammed the grandstand and bleachers expecting to see the best team Fostoria has had in ten years defeat the Trojans. The players, however, had a different idea of the situation, and closed the season in a most fitting manner, coming out on top after one of the most gruelling games of the year.

Varsity Football Squad:

Row 2—Niswander, Myers, Helms, Beard, Cromer, Polen, Shively, Busick, Swisher, Lucas, Launder.

Row 3—Winch, Phillips, Haldeman, Gohlke, Holliger, Buchanan, Boulis, Bishop, Steegman, Hosler.

Varsity Basketball Squad

The 1933-34 basketball squad experienced a most successful season, winning nine out of thirteen games. The team played a high brand of basketball and at all times was a dangerous opponent. Through Coach Winters' drilling they possessed an offensive drive, which more than once turned defeat into victory, and put up a defense which bewildered the strongest teams.

The Trojans lost the first game to Mansfield then were overpowered by a strong alumni team. Then they hung up a record of seven victories. But again they struck a snag and lost a close battle to Tiffin Junior Home, and also the last game of the season to Fremont.

Findlay went to the sectional tournament at Ada, and qualified for the district Tourney at Findlay for the fourth time in its last four years. To gain this end they scored victories over Bucyrus, which they had defeated earlier in the season, and Galion.

Coming to the district tournament at Findlay, we drew Lima Central and lost to them after a thrilling battle, which was decided only in the last minutes of play.

JOHNNY DEHAVEN

Forward

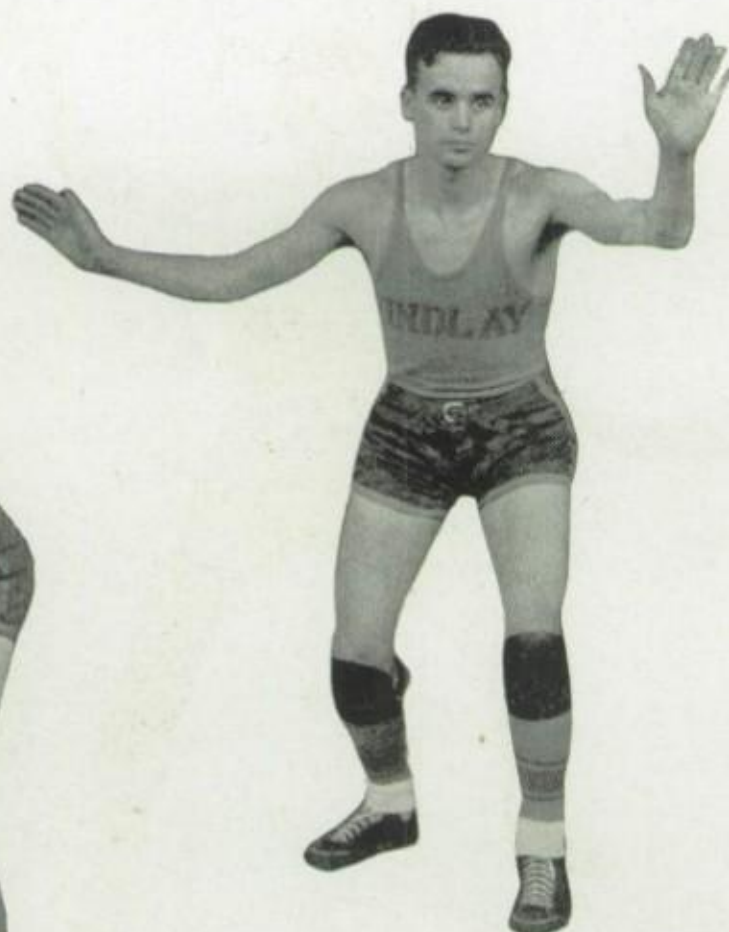

Johnny has been playing basketball for the past three years, but it was not until this year that he has gained much recognition in this field. Johnny filled his position with great skill. When the going was tough Johnny would squirm around the opposing players and come through with a two pointer. Johnny was high point man in the Mansfield, Alumni, Napoleon and Lima South games.

FRED MOORE

Center

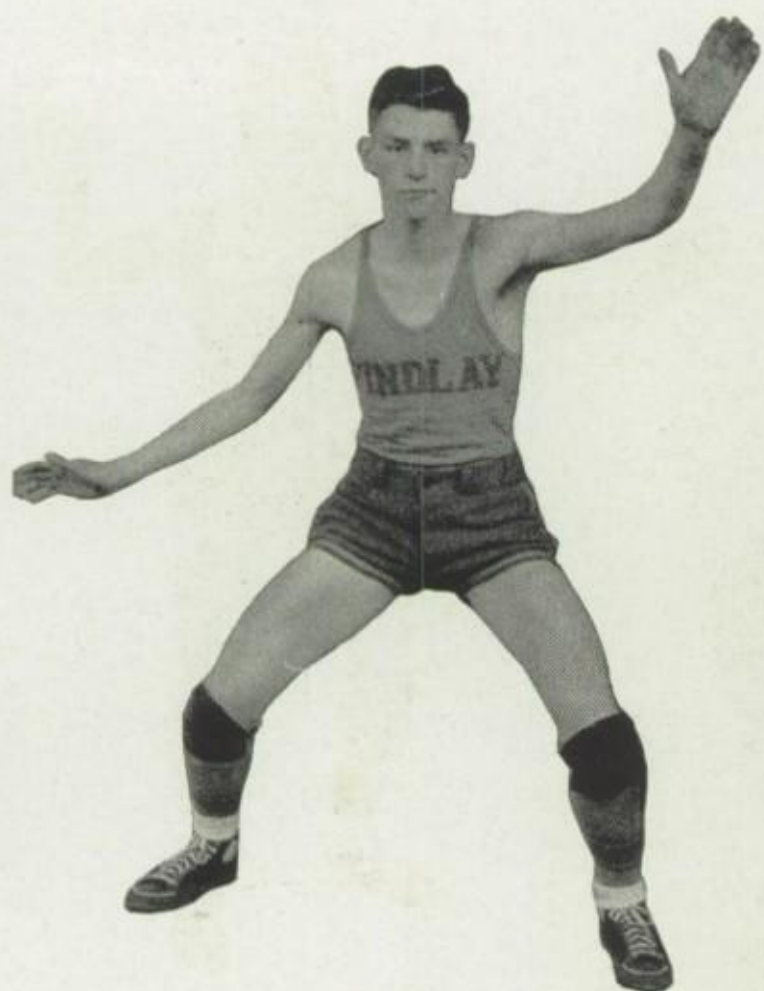

It was always a pleasure to see Freddy dodge his man and roll the ball over the edge of the basket for a score. The opposing player couldn't see how one fellow could be all over the floor at once like Freddy could. At the center position Fred usually got the tip-off whether his opponent was taller or not. He was high point man in the Tiffin Columbian, Libbey, and Bucyrus games.

CARL MCKITRICK

Guard

McKittrick made a brilliant climax for his high school basketball career by his outstanding playing this year. He was an equally good offensive and defensive player. When an opponent was sure of a basket, McKittrick would change his mind for him. In critical moments when defeat threatened, McKittrick would loop a long one through the hoop. McKittrick was high point man in the Lima Central game.

DON BISHOP

Guard

None of the opponents could find a way to elude Bishop when being guarded by him. He stuck with them wherever they went. Whenever a pass intended for the opposing team came anywhere near him he intercepted it and turned it into a two pointer for the Trojans. He never let an opponent get by him without doing his utmost to stop him.

BILL CROMER

Center

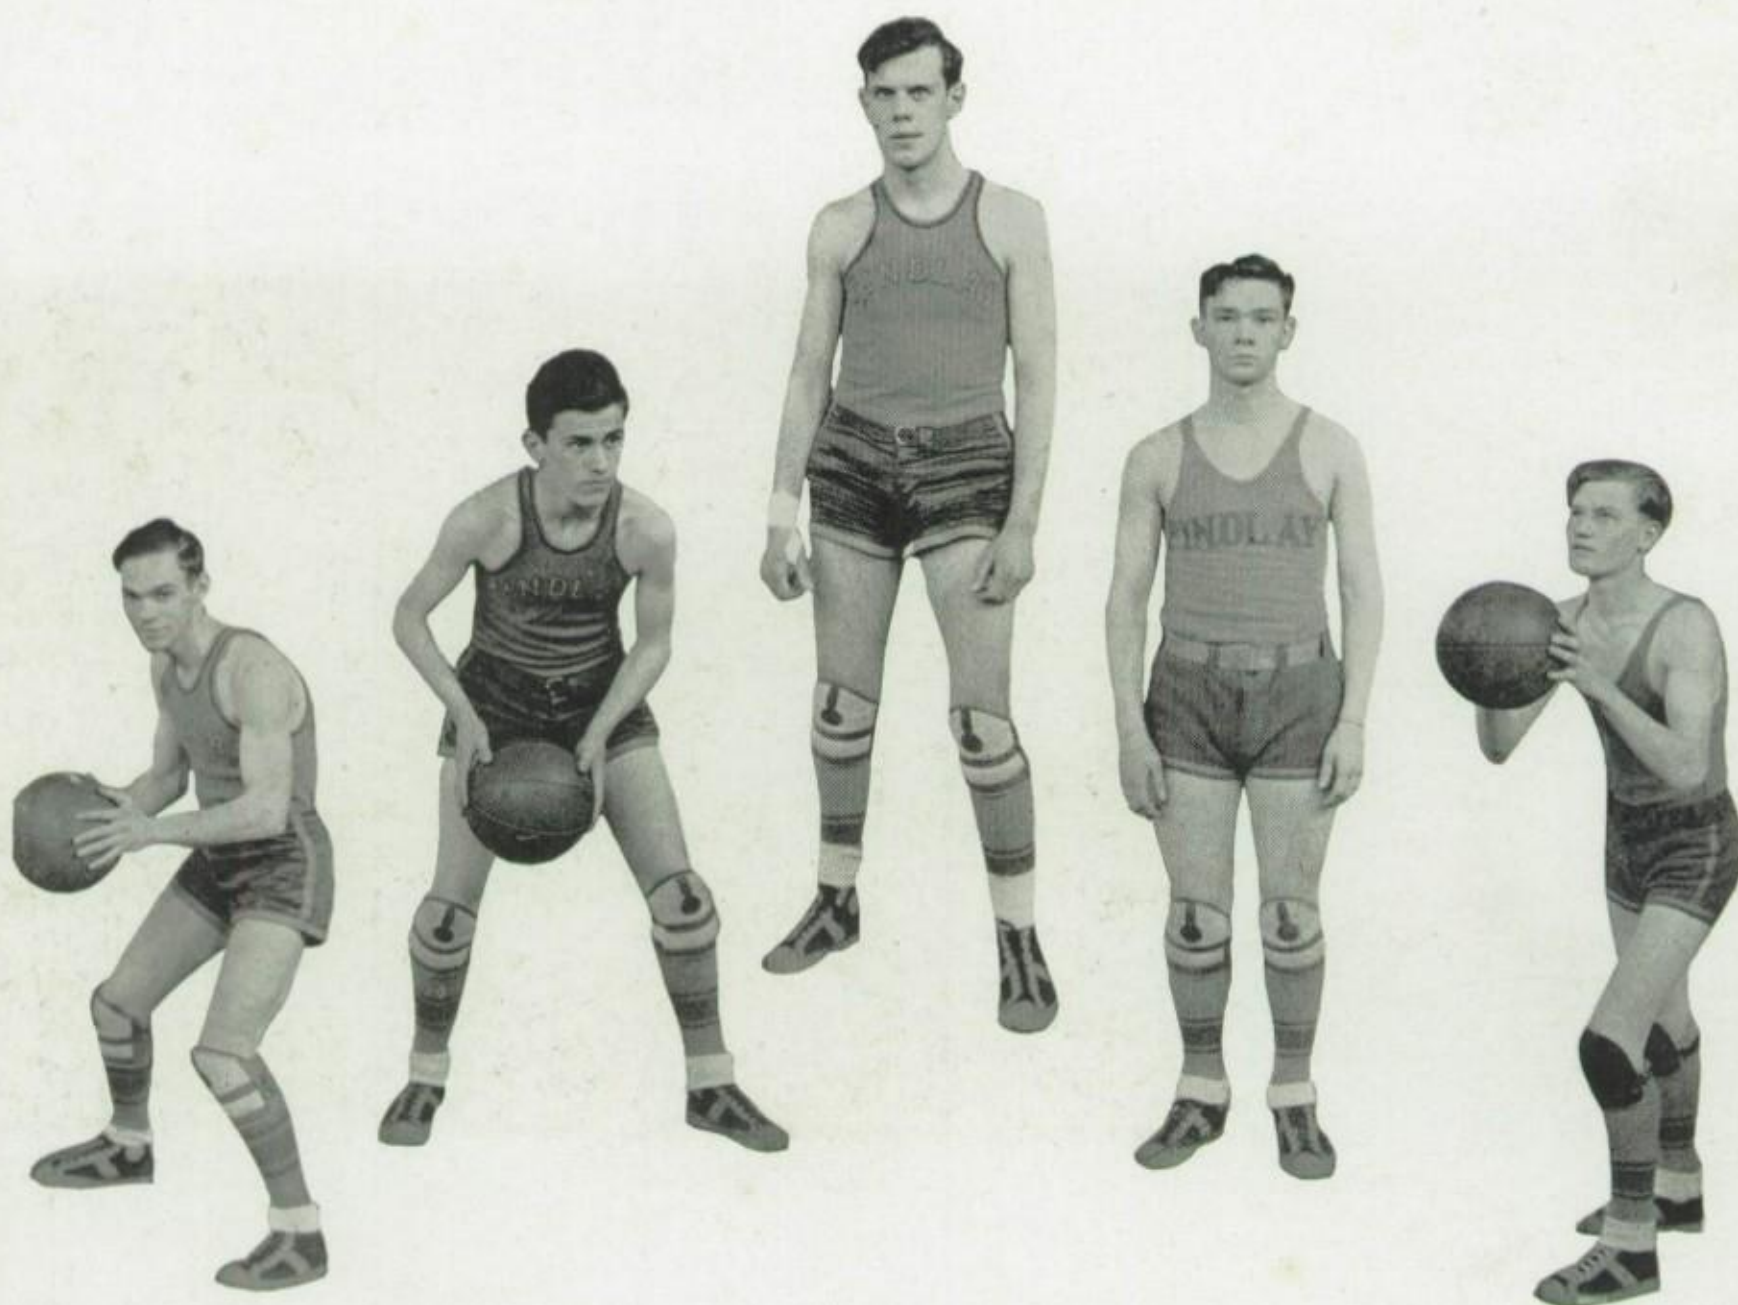

Bill was a very valuable asset to the team. When called to fill the center assignment Bill showed his opponent what basketball and the pivot position are. He could always be counted on for a score even if he couldn't see the basket. He dazzled the spectators by his wonderful ability to hit the hoop. Bill was high point man in the Fostoria, Bowling Green and Kenton games.

HERRICK POLEN

Forward

"Hecky," as he was called, was one of those calm and cool basketball players. When once he got hold of the ball he kept it until he was ready to give it up. He played straight-forward basketball. Hecky had a knack of hooking the ball to his team-mates in such a way that it couldn't be intercepted. He was high point man in the Fremont game. He will be back again next year.

DICK POWELL

Forward

Powell was another one of those small, shifty forwards who not infrequently evaded his man to slip in a two pointer for the furthering of the Trojans cause. Powell has come through in many critical places where the cause looked about lost.

RALPH HALL

Forward

Ralph gave the fans a good impression of himself in the short time that he played with the team. He was greatly handicapped by not being eligible the first semester, but he came out the second semester with lots of pep and basket-shooting ability.

DON HELMS

Guard

Don proved to be a good mate for Hosler at the other guard position. He ably replaced either of the regular guards whenever the time necessitated. He broke up many a strong offense by his aggressive playing. Don will be back to give his best next year.

ROBERT HOSLER

Guard

Because there can be only two guards on the team Bob had to be satisfied with a second-string position this year. He was always ready to go and fight for the team whenever he was summoned. He will be back with us next year.

CHARLES POLEN

Forward

Another player who has made a good account of himself this year is "Chad" Polen. He gave his brother a lot of competition for his position. Chad played like a veteran with the team. He will return next year.

Letter "F"

President Carl McKittrick
V. Pres. Don Bishop
Secretary Bill Cromer
Sponsor J. J. Winters

The outstanding purposes of the Letter "F" Club are to promote companionship and sportsmanship and to create a better understanding and fellowship among its members. It is the desire of this organization to promote clean sports, not only among its members but especially those who do not belong to the Letter "F." The boys who gained membership were those who were awarded letters for their fine work and ability in football, basketball, and track. Many of the meetings included discussions of the different phases of the various games, as well as to learn more about them.

An outstanding accomplishment of this athletic group was the project for a suitable name for our athletic teams. The name selected by the school was "Trojans." The club also took charge of several pep meetings during the football and basketball seasons.

The boys looked forward to the bean-feeds. There were many who looked with misgiving toward the initiation banquet. However, the club's tradition was upheld by their sportsmanship. Mr. Winters sponsored the club.

"B" Football Squad

Last fall the athletic department decided to start a new method of handling the football material. Coach Winters chose thirty boys to form an "A" squad which would drill at the stadium. In order to give the boys who wished to go out for football a chance a "B" squad was organized. The essential purpose of this squad, which practiced at the old athletic field, was to give freshmen and sophomores experience in the fundamentals of the game. In this way they would be better developed when their chance came to go up to the stadium.

The idea was so popular that far too many boys came out for the equipment that was at hand. Thus there was great competition for the available places on the squad. A fine spirit developed among the boys that was a great aid to the coaches, Mr. Frack and Mr. Coffey. The "river rats" as they were nicknamed played several games and gave a creditable account of themselves which prophesied that in the future the reputation of Findlay will not be lowered.

"B" Basketball Squad

An important part in the development of Findlay High's varsity basketball teams is played by the "B" squad which acts as a training camp for future varsity material. This year the squad was composed of about fifteen fellows most of whom are Juniors and Sophomores. The fellows improved very rapidly under the able coaching of Mr. Frack. The squad practiced five nights a week after the varsity had finished its practice. The fellows showed untiring enthusiasm night after night.

During the season the squad played the Glenwood Junior High and a great number of the county High Schools around Findlay. In all of these games the fellows gave a good account of themselves. A team composed of "B" squad players participated in the tournament held at Findlay College and came through with a brilliant record.

Tumbling Team

The Blue and Gold Tumbling Team is a recent development in the athletics of Findlay High School. The team owes its development and success to the capable sponsoring of Mr. Slager.

During the past year the team put on exhibitions at six home basketball games, a charity exhibition sponsored by the Rotary-Kiwanis Clubs, an exhibition at one of the Elks Club meetings, and they finished the year by participating in the "Frolics of 1934," another charity exhibition sponsored by the Elks, and given on the stage of the Harris Theatre.

The boys that received emblems were Erroll Brown, two-year emblem; Norman Eiseman, three-year emblem; and Ralph Halliwill, captain, three-year emblem. Three-year members are members of the Letter "F" club. We, the members of the team, wish to express to Mr. Robbins, Mr. Winters, and Mr. Slager, the deepest appreciation for their efforts in obtaining recognition and emblems for the members of the team.

Home Room 211

Because of an error in making the picture schedules, the picture of Home Room 211 was not taken at the time of the other pictures and thus was not sent in with the rest of the home room pictures when the plates were made. The fact that the picture was missing was discovered too late to correct the error and so another picture was taken and a plate made. We are very sorry that this had to happen and tender our humble apologies to Mr. Lee and the members of Home Room 211. We hope that the error will be forgiven and that it will not detract any from the enjoyment of the book for anyone.

Row 1—Mr. Lee, J. Ewing, R. Dressel, A. Ammann, M. Armbricht, R. Baird, C. Bowman.

Row 2—D. Brown, M. Castor, B. Allison, F. Campbell, B. Child, M. Cochrun, C. Feters, L. Dantico.

Row 3—E. Daugherty, G. Fairbanks, H. Abbott, J. Brooks, H. Baughman, R. Ayers, L. Ault.

Here Are Some of the Reasons Why GIANTS Are Good:

- All GIANT tires have two extra cord breaker strips.
- All GIANT tires are cured with the hot water process.
- All GIANT tires have a special bead construction.
- All GIANT tires are full size.

Remember Giant's have never been out of production since 1915

Four animals went to a circus - - a duck, a pig, a frog, and a skunk. All of them got in except one. The duck had a bill, the pig had four quarters, and the frog had a green back, but the skunk only had a scent, and that was a bad one.

THE COUNTERSIGN

"Where you from?"

"Chicago."

"Let's see your bullet wound."

"So she refused to marry you. Didn't you tell her about your rich uncle?"

"Yeah, I told her, and she's my aunt now."

"I have sad news. My dog died last night."

"What'd it do? Swallow a tape line and die by inches, or run up the alley and die by the yard?"

"Naw. It crawled under the bed and died by the foot."

"Pardon me, does this train stop at Tenth Street?"

"Yes; watch me and get off one station before I do."

"Thank you."

"What became of the clerk you had here?"

"Had to fire him. A man came with his bride to buy a book for reading on his honeymoon and the clerk offered him 'Travels With a Donkey'."

Mr. Hutson: "What do you think of the Art Museum, John?"

John H.: "Oh, the pictures are good enough but there ain't no good jokes under them."

"Not so fast, driver - - this is my first trip in a taxi."

"Thatsh funny - - itsh mine too."
